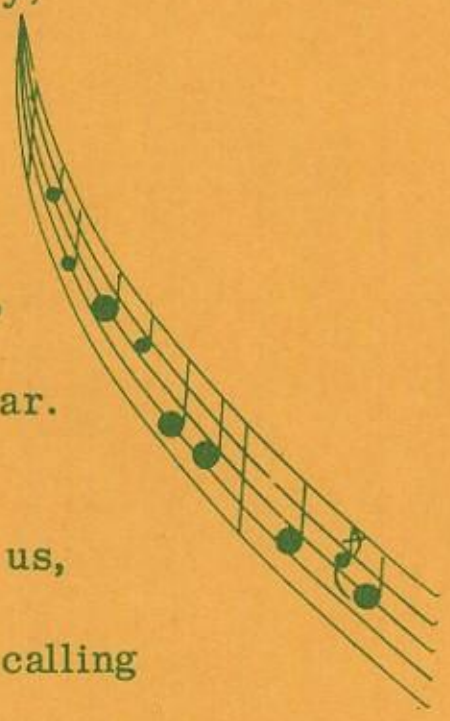
"ALMA MATER"

The green and the white
Of our dear Central High
And "Sine Timore"
Our strong battle cry;
They link us together
In purpose sincere,
With loyalty, courage,
Our goal to draw near.



The heroes all 'round us,
Oh, hear, they are calling
The strong hearts,
The brave hearts,
That find refuge here;
And so, ALMA MATER,
We uphold your standards,
With banner flying,
Voices crying
LOYALTY!

Foreword

In order to put "first things first" and to be what God intended, man must have courage. If forever a coward, unable to stand up for justice and happiness, he will accomplish little in the future. For this reason then, Central is preparing her students to face the world into which they will graduate. Armed with a shield composed of Religion, Academics, Social Grace, and Good Sportsmanship and aided by the light of wisdom, they advance onward as the men and women of tomorrow. The way may be rough and others may hesitate, yet Catholicism and neighborly love will prevail because schools like Central have instilled in their students the battle cry, "Sine Timore."

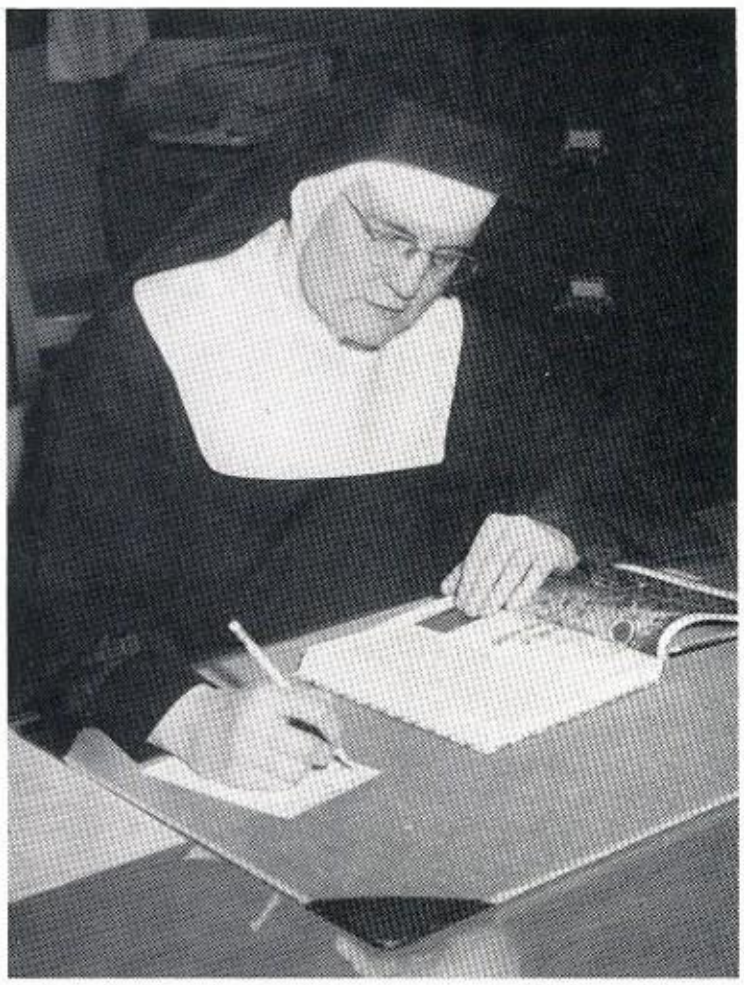
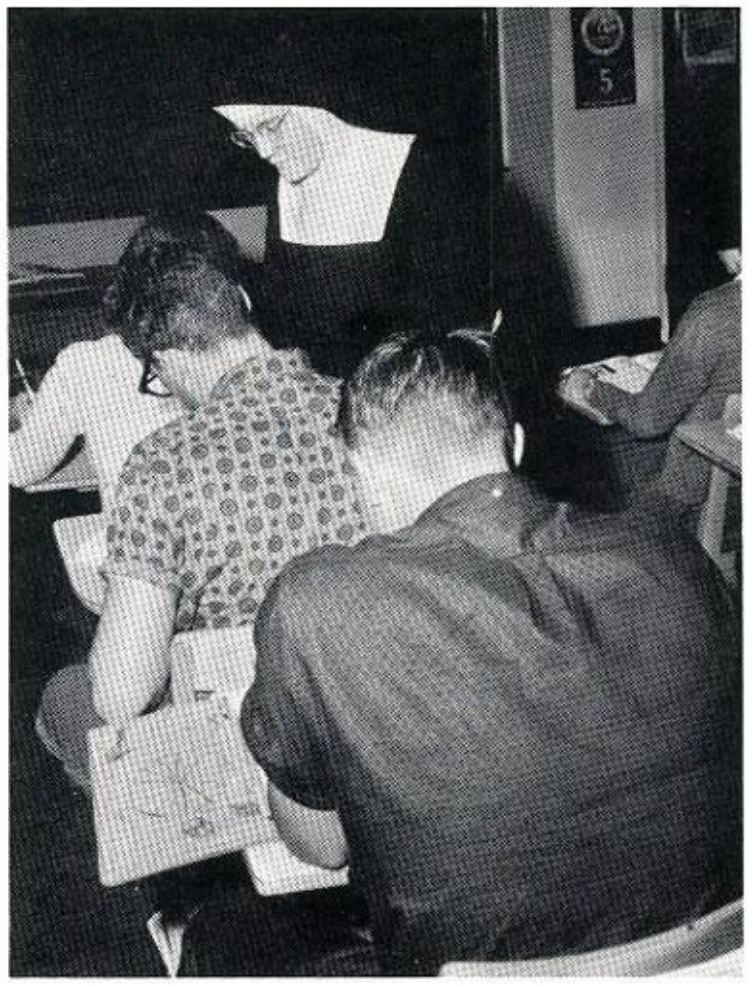
MOTHER ATHANASIA

dedication

Four years ago, Mother Athanasia was appointed Principal of Havre Central High School. Since that time she has willingly devoted herself to the fulfillment of Central students in all phases of life. Her personal sacrifice to make strong Christians and perfect citizens of these students, in addition to her ability in the classroom and the multitude of services she performs daily, are held in esteem. Patient and understanding, she has stood ready to cope with any problem, large or small, of any student. Central is fortunate in possessing such a competent leader. So therefore, may we respectfully express our gratitude by dedicating this 1964 Nugget to you, Mother, as a small token for your services as Principal, Teacher, and Counselor.





Dear Students:

In the education of youth, the means used are necessarily based on the convictions men have regarding the ultimate aim of life. The axiom "He who wishes an end, wishes the means to that end" when applied to education, determines the curriculum and method of training to be followed. Further, the strength of one's convictions in the purpose of life here and hereafter gives strength to both teacher and pupil. The basic foundation upon which Havre Central rests as a school is the Christian conviction of the origin, nature and destiny of man. As teachers, we wish to help you become ultimately citizens of Heaven. In so doing, we do not overlook the fact that first you must be good citizens of earth, hence, as educators we wish to prepare you for the world into which you will graduate, with its economic, political and social unrest. You will be your brother's keeper. Your neighbor has rights which impose upon your obligations. So, too, do you have rights. Likewise God. Towards helping you to distinguish between which rights come first, Havre Central exists. As you go forth, the Faculty hopes that you will justify Central's existence and sanctify your own by putting first things first.

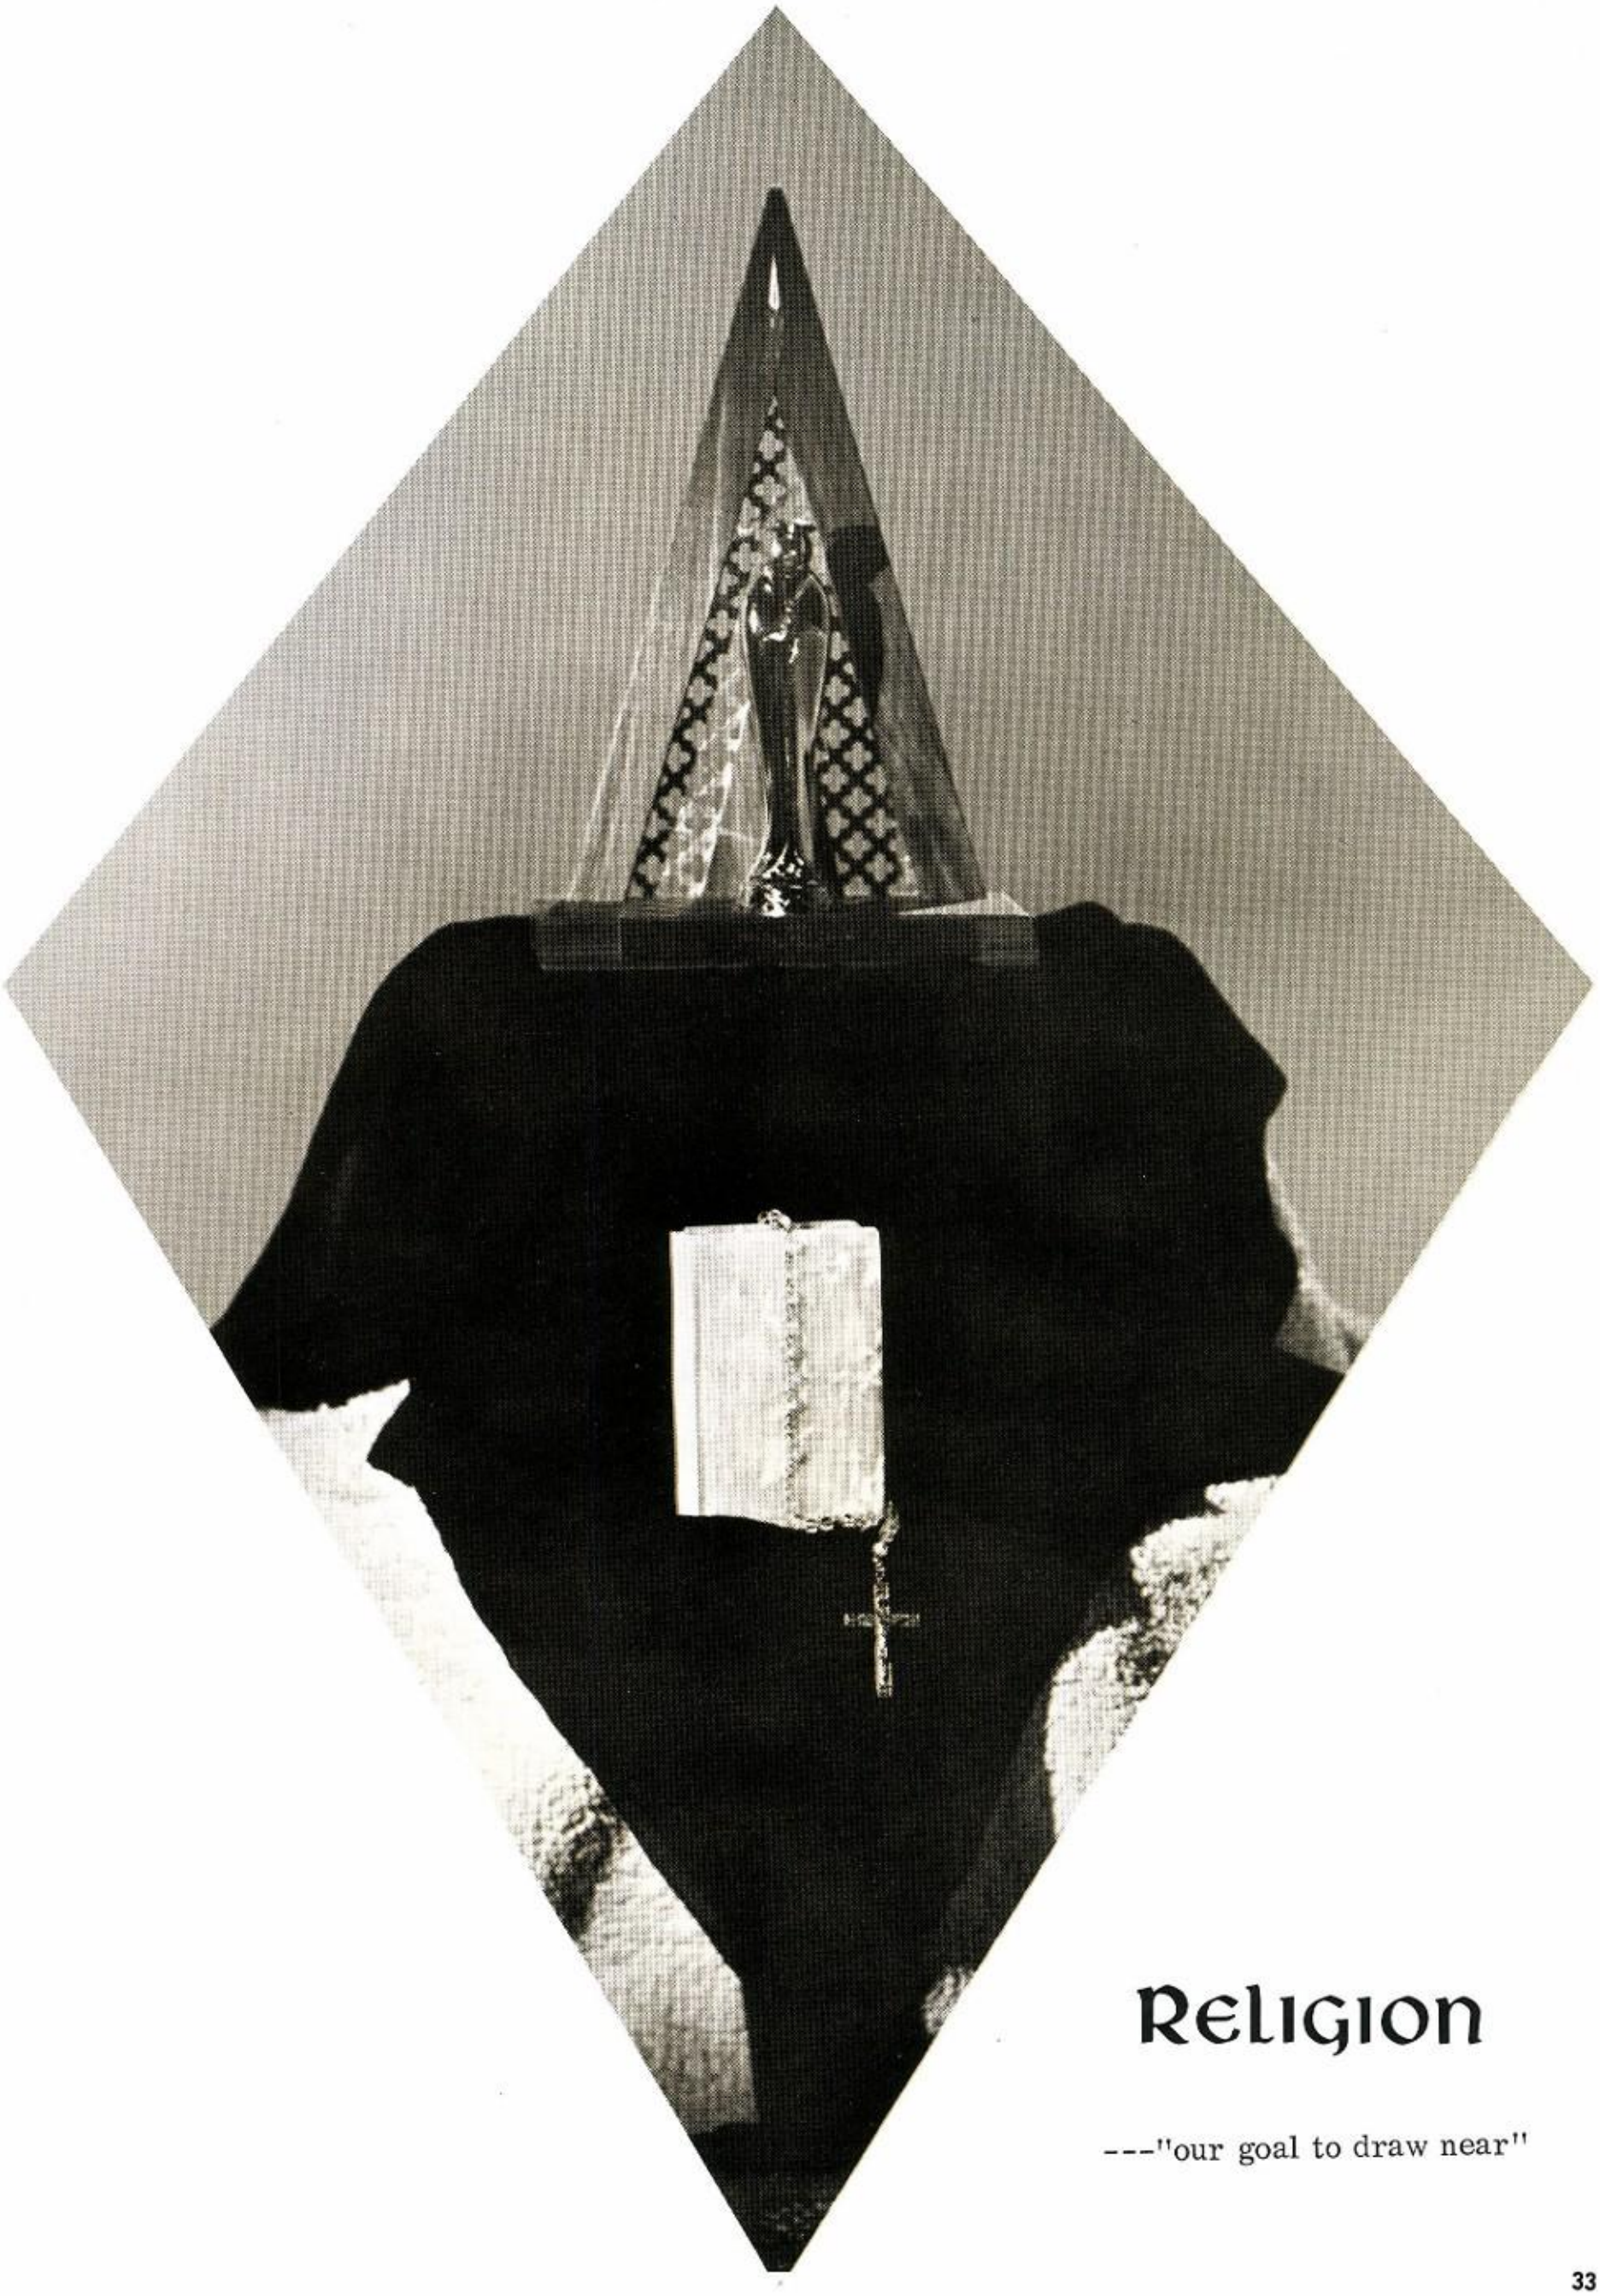
Sister Rose, Homeroom teacher for the Freshman Class, interests them in the activities for the "63-64" school year.

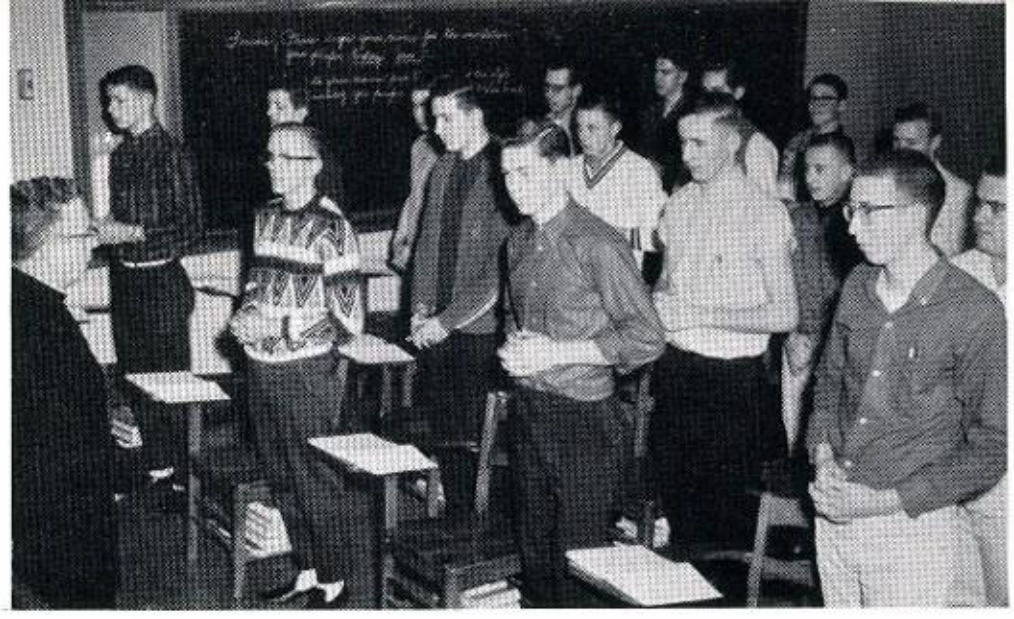
The Freshman Class, the largest ever enrolled in Central, eagerly await the bell in order to experiment with some of their "Frosh" antics.



Religion

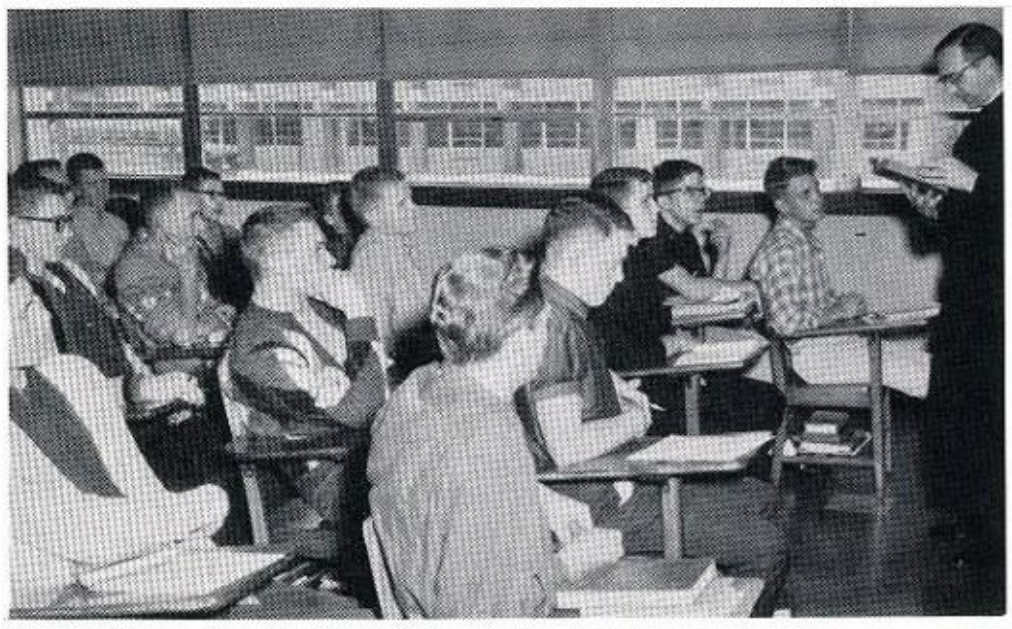
---"our goal to draw near"

Fr. French discusses "Commutative Justice" in a moral guidance lecture to the Senior Girls. They are learning the principles of governing themselves in ordinary circumstances.



Every class begins and ends with a prayer at Central. This Senior Religion Class asks for God's blessing on their work.

Junior Girls read and discuss the many issues in their Religion Class under the guidance and supervision of Fr. Retzel.

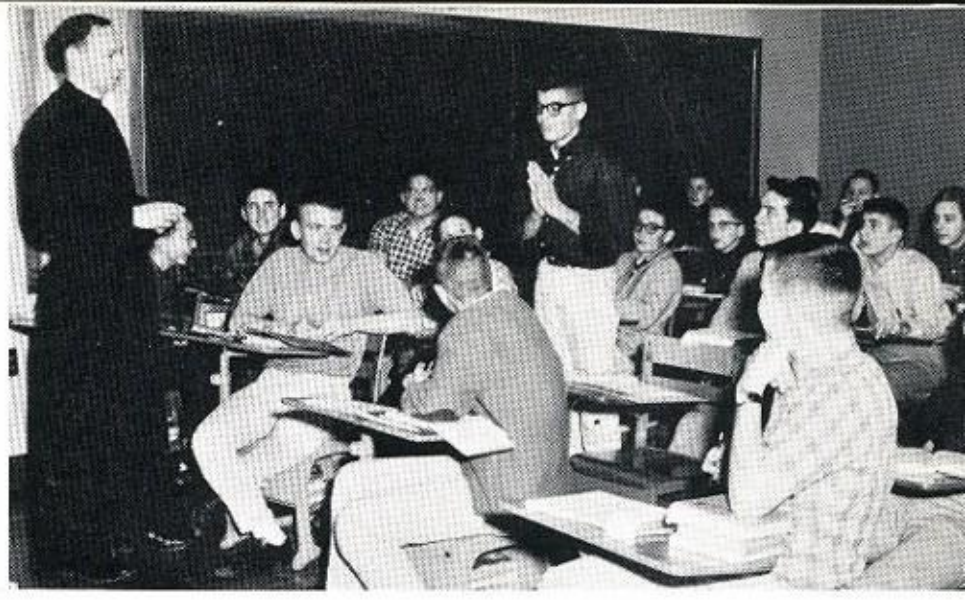


Fr. Retzel leads the Junior Boys in their reading and interpreting of their Religion Text.

Father Maher and the Sophomore Girls participate in a lively debate concerning the primary purpose of marriage.

Father Maher explains to the Sophomore Boys' Religion class, "There is power in Religion."

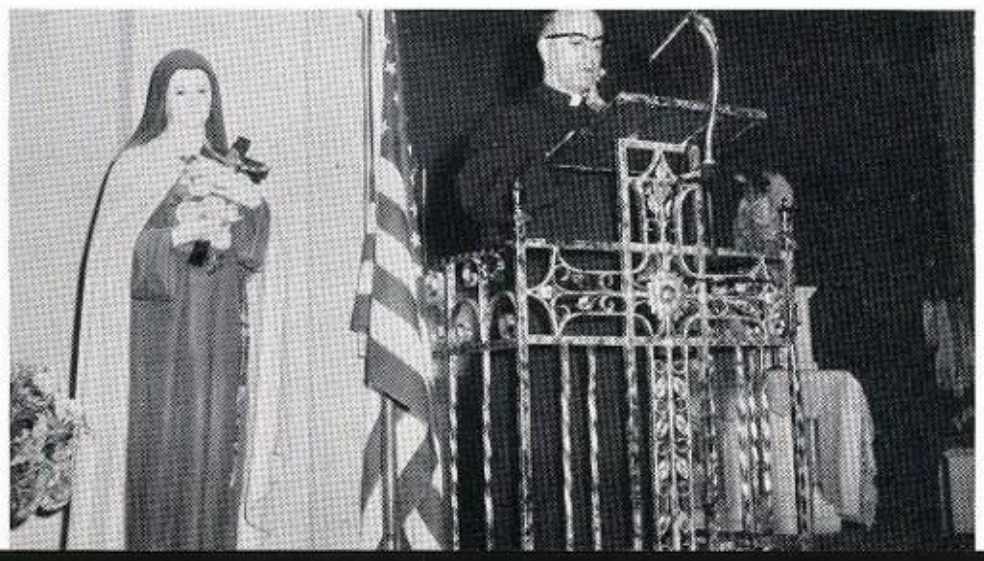
Father Maher explains the parts of the Mass to the Freshman Girls' Religion class.



Father Maher instructs the Freshmen Boys' Religion class on the topic of prayer. He has called upon David Craig to give an example of the proper position for this devotion.

Every Friday the Havre Central Student Body attends Mass, the highest form of worship in the Catholic faith.

In the fall of 1963 the Central students attended an inspiring retreat given by Father Prasch S. J.



Sister Rose leads the Glee Club in practicing the Proper for Student Body Mass. This choral group participates in church and community functions.

Girls' Sodality Officers from l-r: Sherry Paulsen, Prefect; Jeanne Lund, Treasurer; Gretchen Trimper, Secretary, arrange flowers at the feet of the Patron of the Sodality.

Members of Central's Girls' Sodality clap enthusiastically as Senior speakers practice their Marriage Panel which will be held for all girls in the area.

On Oct. 8, 1963, clergy from the local parishes were present to celebrate the Silver Jubilee of Rev. John O'Hara's Ordination to the Priesthood.

The Knights of the Altar are loyally dedicated to their assistance in church services.

The Boys' Sodality compliments itself on the success of their Christmas Basket Drive for the needy.

Officers of the Boys' Sodality from l-r: Albert Hilla, Vice-Prefect; John Malsam, Prefect; Fr. French, Advisor; Doug Erbacher, Treas., plan future projects for the parish.

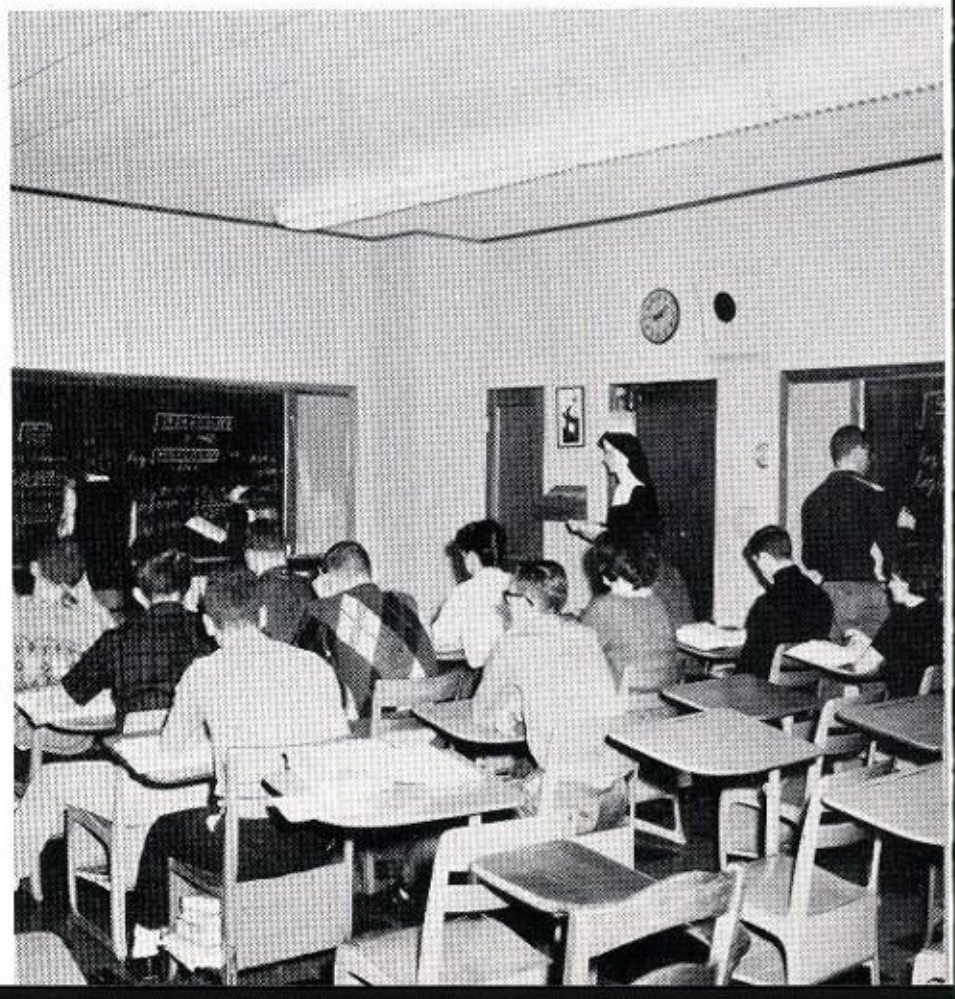
Latin I students are busily conjugating verbs in their study of the unchangeable language.

Miss Dunn shows the Latin II class slides of Rome, from her European tour. She is showing how large the Colosseum rocks are - insisting it isn't a fish story.

Mathematics

Sister Rose prepares the Algebra I Class for a Unit Test by giving a thorough review.

Members of the Algebra II Class write their mathematical solutions on the blackboard as Sister Rose and the remaining students check their work.



Sister Erentrude demonstrates, to the Sophomore Girls' Geometry Class, the construction of the medians of a scalene triangle.

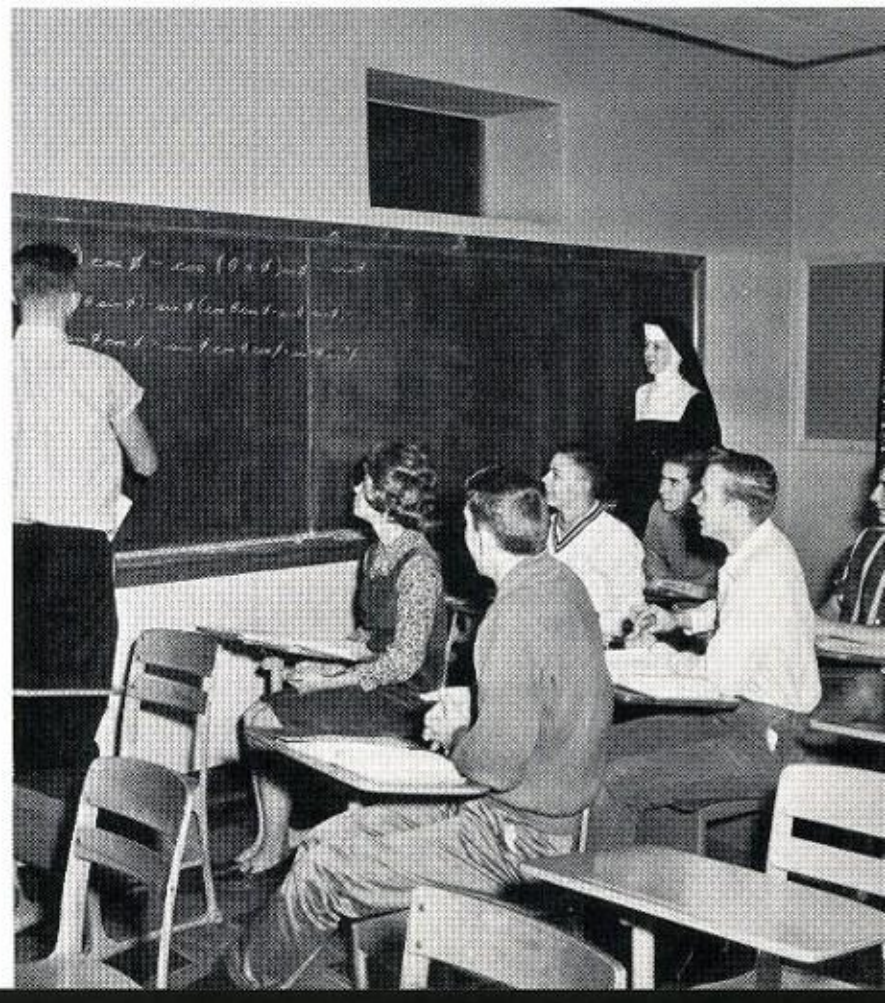
Mathematics - "That science treating of the exact relations existing between quantities or magnitudes and operations, and of the methods by which in accordance with these relations, quantities sought are deductible from others known or supposed."

While the Algebra I Class works intently, Sister Erentrude helps Marilyn Semans work a difficult problem.

Larry Davis explains a Trig Problem to members of Sister Rose's Advanced Math Class.



Cathy McCormick influences the Physical Science Class while debating man's journey to the moon.

The Senior Boys find that the difficult Physics Class, directed by Sister Miriam, can be entertaining.

Science

While approaching the new frontier of discovery, the Chemistry students avidly try new experiments.

Freshman World History class, "Where is Persia?" This is only one of the many typical questions put to Mrs. Bronson.

Mr. Kuka and the U.S. History class prepare to debate an issue in procedure.

Social Studies

Maps are an important part of Sister Olivet's Economic Geography class. Here, Sister describes the lands around the Mediterranean.

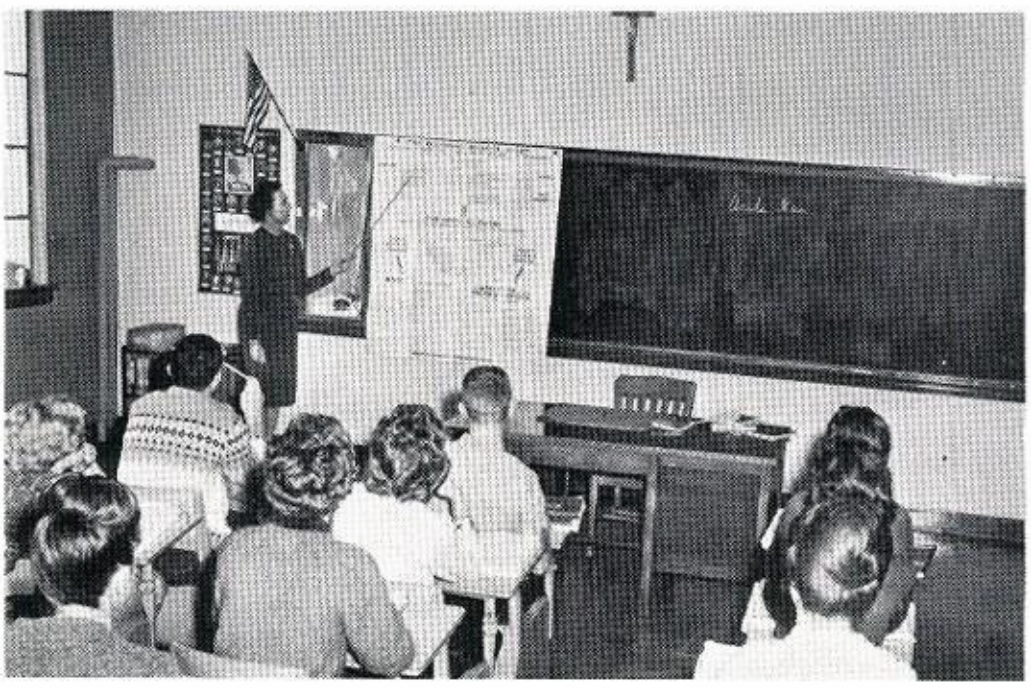
Jerry Browning injects Montana into the Modern History Class. Both the Seniors and Mrs. Bronson are amused by the tales of those lawless days.

The new Johnson Administration arouses different reactions in Mr. Kuka's Sociology Class. These emotions vary from the distress of Al Hilla to elations of the other students.

"F-F-F-F-R," is a familiar quote as Mrs. Wigen guides the Typing I Class in learning the mechanics of typing.

Using their new textbooks, the Typing II and III Class are preparing a block letter as Mrs. Wigen supervises.

Office Practice



In Bookkeeping, Mrs. Wigen demonstrates the importance of a balance sheet.

The Boys' P. E. Class splits into teams and challenges one another in a game of basketball.

Sister Erentrude's Study Hall seems to be doing just what the name calls for-studying!

"ALMA MATER"

The green and the white
Of our dear Central High
And "Sine Timore"
Our strong battle cry;
They link us together
In purpose sincere,
With loyalty, courage,
Our goal to draw near.

The heroes all 'round us,
Oh, hear, they are calling
The strong hearts,
The brave hearts,
That find refuge here;
And so, ALMA MATER,
We uphold your standards,
With banner flying,
Voices crying
LOYALTY!
